DRIVE BAKED,
GET BUSTED.

Driving High is Driving Impaired.

The Florida Department of Highway Safety & Motor Vehicles and the Florida Highway Patrol launched the Drive Baked, Get Busted education campaign to communicate the dangers and impacts of impaired driving. Join the campaign to educate Florida drivers about the effects of driving under the influence of marijuana and the consequences of driving high.

Know The Facts About Driving Impaired.

- ▶ In 2016, drug-impaired drivers caused 934 crashes, killing 440 people, including themselves, their passengers, and others on the road. (DHSMV data)
- ▶ In a statewide survey conducted in early 2018, more than one in three (36.5%) respondents said that they are “not at all knowledgeable” about legal issues related to marijuana use and driving in Florida. Overall, about two in three (65.7%) respondents correctly said it is true that driving under the influence of marijuana is always illegal in Florida. Nearly one in four (23.2%) respondents were unsure of whether driving under the influence of marijuana is always illegal in Florida. (University of Florida, Florida Survey Research Center, 2018)
- ▶ In 2017, there were more than 43,000 DUI arrests in Florida. (DHSMV data)

THE FIVE SIGNS OF IMPAIRMENT

Drivers under the influence of marijuana can experience:

- 1 A slowed reaction time
- 2 Limited short-term memory functions
- 3 Decreased hand-eye coordination
- 4 Weakened concentration
- 5 Difficulty perceiving time and distance

Consequences of Driving Impaired

When you're under the influence of marijuana, do not get behind the wheel. Consequences of driving high include, but are not limited to:

- ▶ Hurting yourself
- ▶ Hurting others on the road
- ▶ Getting charged with a DUI, which includes expensive fines, license revocation and jail time.

Be safe and accountable behind the wheel.

Driving high is driving impaired, which puts everyone on the roadway in danger. The Florida Highway Patrol and law enforcement officers statewide are trained to spot signs of impaired driving, and they are constantly monitoring roadways to keep everyone safe. Never drive impaired.

Think about others on the road because your decision can affect countless people.
